managed to learn all that* As he was going on like that for some time, all on a sudden, they brought several can-fuls of water; the water that had been kept for the patients in big alumi-nium cans for drinking purposes durnig meal time. Suddenly feigning that my tiger" brother had got excited beyond control, they began to pour all that water on him, just to cool him down to submission. Here, too, we could clearly see that this gross material water cf ours could not very well serve the purpose cf a cooling agent, in relation to those ethereal per-sonages, and my supernal brother admitted that himself. Later on they requested the European Warder present there, to seat himself on a chair. so that they might make a cflsplay of their tactics before him. This European Warder proved to be one, who had served in the Lunatic Asylum for over twenty to twenty-five years and so was the most experienced of his class, and might well be regarded as the best judge regarding matters, however uncommon, that one might come across there. Knowing that the
